

North American LifeVue[™] | Term Life Insurance

About North American

Every day, people depend on North American to help with their financial protection needs. It's a commitment we've been making since 1886, and we work hard to help our customers handle the realities of today—while planning their dreams for tomorrow.

Privately Owned, Customer Focused

Unlike many life and annuity companies, North American is not publicly traded, which means we're not subject to short-term earnings pressures often faced by publicly traded companies. Our sound investment choices have helped us earn strong A+ ratings from A.M. Best and Standard & Poor's.¹

Invested in Community

North American is also dedicated to helping and improving our communities. In 2015, North American and its member companies, known collectively as Sammons Financial Group², donated $3.1 million to our communities and volunteered more than 8,800 hours of time. One by one, we're making a difference where we live and where we work.

An untimely death is hard enough without worrying about finances. Provide financial protection for your loved ones with a simplified life insurance policy. No doctor appointments. No waiting periods. No extensive medical histories.* Just one phone call.

LifeVue Term provides life insurance coverage in its simplest form. Available in 15, 20, and 30-year terms, you'll pay a set monthly premium for the time you choose.

Coverage costs are affordable so you don't have to choose between your lifestyle and life insurance. You just might not even have to give up your daily cup of coffee while still providing financial protection to your loved ones.

Life Insurance in its Simplest Form

Term life insurance has a length of time, the "term," during which the life insurance company guarantees that the premium you pay will stay level. What's a premium? That's insurance speak for your monthly payment. So, your payment (the premium) amount is guaranteed not to change — up or down — during a certain amount time (the term).

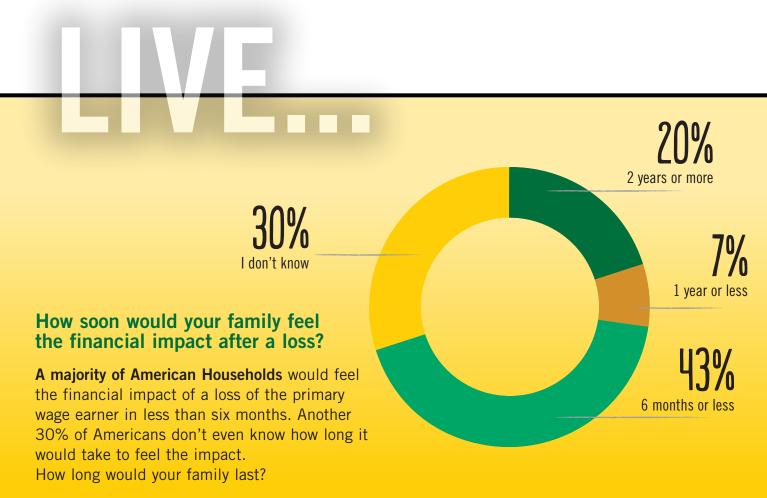

Simply put, Term Life insurance pays a monetary sum (the benefit) in the case of death of the insured during a specified term. Because the death benefit protection is for a limited period, the premium is often the lowest of all types of life insurance policies.

Hassle-free coverage

"Simplified issue" life insurance means there is no medical exam.* Instead, medical information can be provided over the phone, along with other information obtained from medical and pharmaceutical databases, and a decision can be made about qualification. With the simplified process, coverage can typically be obtained in one short phone call, without a medical exam.

Coverage that fits your lifestyle

LifeVue Term has a minimum coverage amount of $50,000 and a maximum amount of $500,000. The amount of coverage is up to you.

Quick, Easy, and Low Cost

Unlike other life insurance products, these hassle-free policies don't require doctor appointments, extensive medical histories or extended waiting periods. When you apply for life insurance, you'll have to answer some basic health and lifestyle questions (for example, participation in hazardous sports like skydiving). Based on your answers, you'll fit into one of three pre-set pricing guidelines called Underwriting Classes. Also, there are separate classes for people who use tobacco.

LifeVue Term is available to people between the ages of 18 and 50. As with most life insurance, your age is part of how we determine the cost of the insurance. For LifeVue Term, age is measured according to your nearest birthday. So if you're currently 39 years old and your birthday is two months away, you'll be 40 for the purpose of determining the premium.
